PRESIDENT

Dr. George A. Bowman

Serving his fifth year as administrative head of the university, Dr. George A. Bowman, combining a genial personality with progressive ideas, has become symbolic of the university's expansion and rise to eminence as a scholastic institution.

Under his guidance there has been a tremendous expansion of housing and classroom facilities to handle the increased enrollment of recent years.

Dr. Bowman was instrumental in bringing national sororities and fraternities to this campus, and also seeing to it that only the better ones be permitted to come on the campus.

As a student of education at Western Reserve, Columbia, Chicago and Harvard Universities, he achieved a broad background for his teaching.

Since Dr. Bowman has been President the school has increased in acreage as well as enrollment. Three buildings are almost completed, which include a men's dorm, a student union, and a new hospital.

Helping the President with his many and varied tasks is Mrs. Alice Makinson, Secretary to the President. With her assistance, students and faculty communicate their problems to the President.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Each year the Ohio Senate consents to the Ohio governor's appointment of one man for a five-year term to the Board of Trustees of Kent State University. He belongs to a group of six members, and one is an ex-officio member, Columbus's Clyde Hissong, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who doesn't attend the meetings.

The five members meet once each month, usually in President Bowman's office, or occasionally at the Board treasurer's office. They direct, and officiate at Kent State University affairs, and each also works actively and successfully at his business or profession in Ohio. Their problems include the budget, honorary degree grants, contracts for building, and tentative appointments for the approval of the Board.

The president of the Board, whose term expires in 1953, is John R. Williams. He is the Lake County Superintendent of Schools, resides at Madison, and has a Painesville office.

Joseph B. Hanan is the vice-president of the Board until 1952. He resides in Akron and is a retired B. F. Goodrich official.

Until 1949 the secretary for the Board is Robert C. Dix, who resides in Kent, and publishes the Ravenna "Evening Record" and the Kent "Courier-Tribune".

1950 ends the term of Otto J. Korb, Ph.D., as the Board treasurer. He superintends the East Cleveland Public Schools.

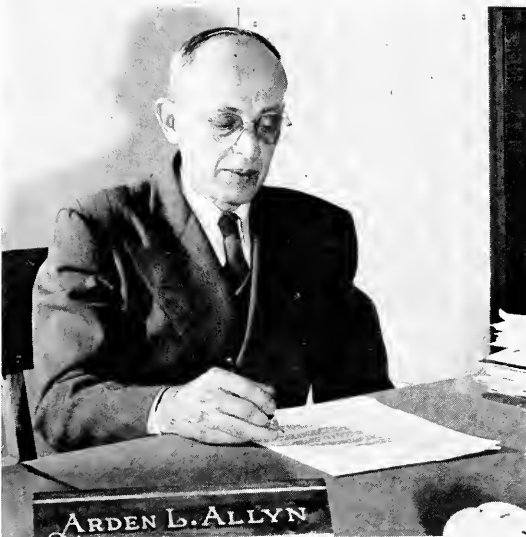

Also a Board member is Charles H. Lake, LL.D. He now serves as an advisor to Cleveland's Superintendent of Public Schools.

SEATED: John R. Williams, Otto J. Korb, Pres. George A. Bowman, Robert C. Dix, Charles H. Lake.
ABSENT: Joseph B. Hanan.

John Reed Spicer

Arden L. Allyn

Raymond E. Manchester

Dr. John Reed Spicer came to Kent State from Westminster, where he also held the position of Dean. His versatility and sympathetic understanding of undergraduates' needs and problems have made him one of the most popular administration staff members.

As Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, Dr. Spicer has made every effort to accommodate the several thousand students who account for the arts college lead in enrollment at Kent State.

Sensing the need for more thoroughly trained students in graduate schools, Dean Spicer has been concentrating on the pre-professional curricula in his college, along with a revised system of faculty advisors.

In the last dozen years the College of Business Administration has earned a place of its own at Kent State due primarily to the work of Dean Arden L. Allyn. When Dean Allyn first came to the University back in 1934, the College of Business Administration was practically unnoticed, but at present it has fifteen major fields of study possible for students interested in business.

Dean Allyn is the only pre-war academic dean still serving the university in that capacity. The reputation of the BA college has prospered in outside business circles to a great extent since the year 1934.

Dean Raymond E. Manchester has held the office of Dean of Men since 1920. Dean Manchester is probably known best for his ingenuity in establishing imaginative traditions. The buggy wheel that was supposed to have been lost scores of years ago by the founder of our neighboring university is probably the most famous. It seems that this wheel was lost in the mire where Kent State now stands. This wheel was recovered and painted and is now used for a trophy for the winner of the Kent State-Akron University football game. The wheel must bring good luck to the university because it has been hanging in the genial dean's office for the last two years.

Dean Manchester has capably handled the overflow of male students on the campus in his usual easy and likeable way.

ANS

Realizing the need for good teachers and their importance, Dean Robert I. White of the College of Education has incorporated the progressive methods obtained from the University of Chicago, where he received his training.

Although Kent State is no longer the teachers' college it was twenty years ago, Dean White has recognized the ever-important role that Kent fulfills in supplying teachers for north-eastern Ohio.

At present Kent State has teachers in all the counties and large cities in the surrounding area, and Dean White is doing a tremendous job in helping to alleviate the teacher shortage in the area.

Since he came to Kent State in 1924, genial Dean Fren Musselman, Dean of Summer School and Extension, has enlarged his position from handling a few vacationing school teachers and night students into a job of handling thousands of students, mostly veterans going to school on an accelerated program.

Perhaps in a few years the enrollment will be reduced, but for the last couple years the enrollment for the summer session has been larger than the enrollment for the regular sessions before the war.

But in the meantime Dean Musselman is capably handling the heavy enrollment of serious students in all colleges in the university during the summer sessions.

As Dean of Women, Dr. Ada V. Hyatt, is recognized for her liberal, modern point of view and has preserved for Kent State women the freedom she believes they are capable of using wisely.

As Dean of Women, Dr. Hyatt has been a very important factor in bringing to this campus the highest-ranking national sororities. She also supervised in the reorganization of rushing and pledging practices used by the sororities.

Dean Hyatt also acts in an advisory capacity to Pan-Hellenic council and Women's League and helps to formulate their policies. She also works closely with off-campus housemothers for the best in rooming facilities.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICIALS

Charles Atkinson

Paul E. Beck

Emil Berg

Clayton M. Schindler

Following in the hard-to-fill footsteps of E. C. Stopher, Registrar Charles Atkinson is doing a competent job of handling the important tasks assigned to the Registrar of a university.

Dr. Atkinson was appointed to the position after the unexpected death of Mr. Stopher, who had held the position for a number of years.

Handling all the funds of a state university is quite a large task, but the position is competently filled by Paul E. Beck, comptroller.

Besides the job of signing all the checks for the several hundred working students and faculty, he must supervise the expenditure of all the money spent by the university.

Working as the second man on a two man team with the comptroller is Emil Berg, Kent State University's able Business Manager.

He is in charge of the problem of where and how to spend the money. At present his biggest task is with the new construction that is being carried on now at the university.

The task of running a university in a high school building in downtown Canton is handled by Clayton M. Schindler.

Although the students are with him for only two years, Professor Schindler knows most of them and encourages them to complete the remaining two years of their education.

ADMINISTRATION

Rena E. Matson

Lieut. Col. Thomas Wall

Ernestine Williams

Alfred A. Crowell

Rena E. Matson assumed her duties as Assistant Dean of Women in September of 1948. She came to Kent from Lewiston, Idaho, but her home is in Akron. One of her many jobs as Assistant Dean of Women is being in charge of all sorority rushing activities.

Acting as advisor to the Booster Club may not fall in line with a military life, but it shows the varied interest held by Lieut. Col. Thomas Wall, commanding officer of the ROTC unit at the university. At present there are 400 enrolled in the ROTC unit.

Seeing to it that more than one thousand students are fed is the task of Ernestine Williams, Head Dietician. She not only has the girls in the dorm to feed twenty times a week, but also the men at Terrace Lodge. Ordering, preparing and serving meals for that number keeps her quite busy.

Publishing the yellow-bound general catalog is one of the many tasks performed by Alfred A. Crowell. In addition to teaching courses in journalism, he publishes a three hundred page annual bulletin for the university and many leaflets for the individual departments.

Trying to find jobs for the graduating seniors is starting to be quite a problem, but Dr. Lester Munzenmayer has helped many KSU graduates to good positions, and will continue to do so in the future. As director of the placement bureau he keeps a file on every graduate of the university, and helps them in obtaining a job.

Finding rooms in the last couple of years has been quite a job, but Mrs. Rhema Fair, Director of Residences has handled the task without much difficulty considering the shortage of rooms that exists around the university.

Lester Munzenmayer

Rhema Fair

ASSISTANTS

Eldred Savires, Assistant Dean of Men, assumed the position in August of 1948. While serving in this position he is also working on his masters degree. It is his job to work with the men on the campus and help the Dean of Men with his work.

As Director of Admissions, Richard Rotzell is responsible for admission of each new student to the university. This consists of evaluating credits from high school and other colleges as well as consulting with students as they advance from one division to another.

Getting the university's name before the people is the job of Michael Radock and his public relations staff. With a staff of student assistants he sends news about students and the university to the publications in this area and over the entire country.

Lawrence Wooddell, Superintendent of Maintenance, sees that supplies are brought from the warehouse, makes sure that all the rooms are kept clean, and issues permits to students who wish to stay in the building overtime. He is in charge of a crew of two hundred men.

Acting as a link between the President and the students is Mrs. Alice Makinson, Secretary to the President. With her help the President is able to conduct the business of running the university without being interrupted at all times during the day.

Dr. Amos Heer, Director of Teacher Training, sees to it that a sound practical background is obtained for every student graduating from the College of Education. Through the system of practice teaching, young teachers gain some valuable experience while in school.

HIGHLIGHTS

REGISTRATION

The fall term started with a record enrollment of 5,700 students enrolled on the campus. The total enrollment for both the Kent and the Canton campuses was 6,500.

The "Frosh" was greeted with the phrase "scrub that seal" and "dink" wherever he turned, and school spirit soared to a new high.

The rigor of registration with its long lines and complicated forms was an old headache for the upper-classmen, but to the new students it was quite confusing along with taking placement tests and physical examinations.

Freshman week was more than just the arrangement of class schedules and examinations. The introduction to college life was highlighted by an informal reception at the President's home.

For the upper classman it meant returning to the routine of classes, library work and exams. It also meant dances, parties and rushing for the Greeks.

The month of October saw the Golden Flashes football team go undefeated in their first four games before being tied by Western Reserve. The Flashes dropped the next two games in a row before hitting the win column against Akron university and the University of Connecticut.

A spirited pep rally was held before the Youngstown game at Prentice gate and a snake dance, led by the university band was staged through the downtown district. Following the game a dance was held at Wills gym, and the traditional paddle was given to Youngstown college to be held by them again this year and for quite some time since we have dropped them from our football schedule.

Plans were completed for the "better relations" dance with Akron university, and it looked like the trouble that perceded the game last year would be avoided in this year's game.

BOTTOM RIGHT: A few of the ISA hay riders.

Numerous organizations were planning parties and organizing events to keep the students on the campus over the week-ends.

The ISA planned and held a successful hay ride that was well attended by all the independent students on the campus, and a clamor for more of the same was heard on the campus following the event.

The Booster Club was making plans and holding spirited pep rallies before the important football games, and school spirit seemed to reach an all-time high during these rallies.

The university band could be found in the afternoons on the practice football field going through their intricate maneuvers that showed up so well during the half-time shows.

HOMECOMING QUEEN

More than 8,000 people attended this year's Homecoming Day celebration, which made it the largest in the school's history.

All the Greek houses were gaily decorated to welcome back the alums, and after the judging was completed, the Delta Gamma's and the Phi Beta Phi's emerged victorious.

The Homecoming game did not turn out to our advantage, the final score being 21-14, but the half-time show compensated for the loss of the game. Student Council president, Phil Dempsey crowned Marilyn Taylor queen and presented flowers to the queen and her attendants, Lois Musick and Ruth Ann Gallagher.

President George A. Bowman and President Frank J. Prout of Bowling Green gave brief speeches welcoming the alums of Kent State university back to school.

The day ended with a dance held in Wills Gymnasium in honor of the "old grads". Everybody left with fond hope of being able to return again next year for a bigger and better affair than the last one.

ALL GREEK FORMAL

Again this year as in years gone by the traditional competition among Greek organizations was temporarily put aside to make way for the display of social grace and latest in evening wear at a special formal dance.

The dance was the annual All Greek formal, sponsored by the Alpha Phi sorority to honor their new pledges. This year eighteen pledges were honored and given their official welcome at the "coming out party" held at East Market Gardens ballroom in Akron at the end of the Fall quarter.

Eleanore Kolk, president of the Alpha Phi sorority, was in charge of the ball, one of the bright spots on the fraternity and sorority social calendar.

Banners of each organization on campus decorated the spacious ballroom for the All Greek affair, and a high spot in the evening's entertainment was the "Song Intermission" when each group serenaded those in the audience with its fraternity song, with the Kappa Sigs and Beta Gams giving an impressive rendition of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

In the month of December an overflow crowd of students and faculty members filed in the auditorium to hear an address by the Honorable Sumner Welles. It was one of the largest crowds ever to witness an assembly in the history of the university.

Also during the month of December, the girls at Moulton Hall put on their finest formals to enjoy their annual Christmas formal, the "Mint Prom", which was held in the Music Room in Moulton Hall.

The week before Christmas vacation found the Greeks making the rounds of the sorority and fraternity houses and dorms singing Christmas carols.

The annual Top Hop was held during the month of January with Miss Kent State being presented with a trophy during intermission.

Miss Kent State for 1949 was Ruth Ann Gallagher, Delta Gamma, who was elected this honor by student vote. Miss Gallagher was elected from a field of three, the other two being Jean Milford, Alpha Phi, and Martha Lansinger, ISA.

At intermission the queen was escorted to the throne by heads of all Greek organizations and the ISA. Attendants Jean Milford and Martha Lansinger walked beside Miss Gallagher during the royal procession.

The name band for this year's dance was Shep Fields and his band. The dress for the dance was informal but numerous students wishing to keep the old tradition of formal wear at the Top Hop dressed for the occasion.

PORK BARREL

Students, faculty and townspeople jammed the auditorium again this year to witness the annual Pork Barrel presentation by groups on the campus.

The planning and arranging for this annual show is done by Women's League and Men's Union.

This year as the year before, eliminations were held the night before the final show to eliminate those shows of lower calibre and to cut down the running time of the presentation.

The winners in their respective divisions on the final night were Engleman hall, Industrial Arts club, Alpha Phi sorority and Gamma Tau Delta fraternity.

The annual Masque Ball was held during the month of February. The dance was sponsored this year by Women's League, Men's Union and the Art Club.

During the intermission of the dance, the Chestnut Burr Queen for 1949 was crowned and presented with a trophy from the staff and flowers from Men's Union.

Miss Betty Jean Smeltzer, Kappa Kappa Gamma, was chosen queen by Mr. G. W. Churchill, foreign pictorial editor of Life magazine. Her court included Miss Betty Reddrop, Alpha Xi Delta, Miss Sally Koch, Alpha Xi Delta, and Miss Carol Volkman, Alpha Phi.

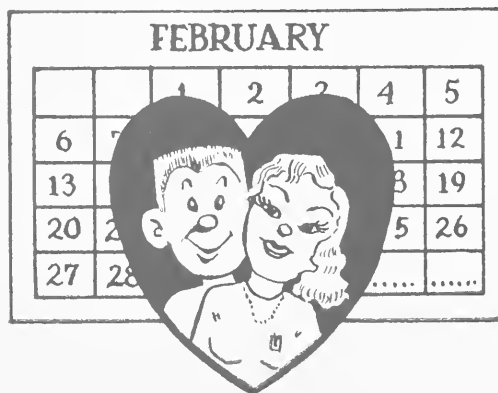

There was no admission charge for the dance this year, but costumes were preferred. Many unique and original costumes could be seen at the gala affair. The gym for this dance was decorated the best that it has ever been decorated. The topic of conversation throughout the dance centered around the decorations, which were of a reincarnation theme carried out in abstract drawings.

Germane Swanson presents the Burr queen her trophy.

The winner at the annual Masque Ball.

With the completion of the winter quarter came also the completion of the new medical center at the university.

This was the first building completed of three that were started approximately at the same time. The other two, the student union and Stopher hall, men's dorm, will not be completed until sometime in the fall.

The medical center will have all the facilities necessary to maintain the health of the students here at the university.

In the "Duke of Kent" contest sponsored by the Chi Omega sorority, Fred Green of Phi Beta Phi emerged victorious. The profits from this contest were donated to the Stadium drive. It was the second year in a row that the winner was a member of Phi Beta Phi fraternity.

Vic Moore's dream of a gym team and gym meet finally came true during March, when the Flashes were host to the gym team from the University of Michigan, and although they came out on the short end of the meet by two points they gave Michigan a good battle.

PORK BARREL

The finale of the Delta Gam's winning skit.

The Pork Barrel for 1948 looked more like professionals at work on the stage instead of amateurs. Competition each year is becoming keener and this year was no exception.

The dialogue was excellent, the costumes were unique and original, and the lighting and staging left nothing to the imagination.

In the sorority division the Delta Gammas came through with flying colors to capture the trophy.

In the fraternity division the Gamma Tau Delta fraternity presented a brief review of previous events at KSU to win the award in their respective division.

An overflow crowd witnessed the show and was pleased with every "skit" that was presented during the evening.

PENNY CARNIVAL

The annual Penny Carnival sponsored by Blue Key was held during April of '48 with all the proceeds going to the stadium drive.

The gym on that evening looked like the midway at Ringling Bros. circus, with fraternities, sororities and organizations having stands around the entire gym.

The Alpha Xi Delta sorority with their "House of Horrors" and "Leg Toss" collected the most money among the sororities.

Delta Phi Sigma with their basketball shooting stand took top honors among the fraternities.

The idea of Penny Carnival originated during the war to collect money to send "Staters" to KSU men in the armed forces. Since then it has been carried on with the money going to any worthwhile cause.

CAMPUS DAY

Starting with the traditional painting of the "K" by the DU's and the presentation of the "K" girl, Isla Schnaufer, Campus Day festivities got under way.

Cardinal Key women led a solemn procession of queen contenders from the steps of Lowry to the lower campus, where Student Council president, Tom Davey, announced the May Queen, Daisy Taylor.

Following crowning of the May Queen and the May-pole dance was the float parade. The parade this year was elaborate and showed much ingenuity on the part of the participants. The winning float in the fraternity division was the Kappa Sigma Chi's. They used the idea of world peace, with a large float of the world with Stalin and Uncle Sam on top.

In the sorority division the Beta Gamma's copped top honors with a float of a dutch windmill, and a number of girls walking beside the float dressed in dutch costumes.

In the evening the students gathered on the lower campus to hear the songfest. Delta Upsilon won the fraternity division with their rendition of "Send Forth Thy Spirit" and Delta Gamma took first place in the sorority division singing "All The Things You Are".

ROWBOAT REGATTA

After months of study and hard work, the students and faculty spent a day of relaxation at Brady Lake to witness the eighth annual Rowboat Regatta.

The day's activities began with a softball game between Delta Phi Sigma, the fraternity champs, and a faculty team led by Trevor Rees. After the smoke from the battle had cleared, the Delts were declared the winners by a 21 to 1 score.

Following the softball game came the judging of the regatta queen, which was won by Carol Stofcho, who reigned over the day's activities.

The Independent race was won by Bob Speno and John Grimaldi rowing for ISA, but only after they had nosed out the Friars club in a thrilling race. In the women's division, WAA copped first place with Bernice Looney and Jean Walcott at the helm.

Delta Upsilon captured first place in the fraternity division and Jean Fulweber and Mary Beth Sherman rowing for Gamma Phi Beta won first place in the sorority race.

In a special attraction, a faculty crew comprised of Prof. Will S. Thompson and Prof. Frederick E. Davidson nosed out the Stater crew, Phil Dempsey and Neil Heaslip.

PHOTOGRAPHY SHORT COURSE

More than 300 professional photographers attended the 1948 Short Course in News Photography. The course this year was concerned only with professional cameramen and their problems.

Professor James A. Fosdick was executive secretary for the seventh annual event. Joseph Costa of New York was director for the course. Many top photographers were present to give lectures, some of which included, George Yates, Ralph Wareham, Frank Scherschel, and William Eckenberg.

GRADUATION

After four years of studying, worrying and cramming, the goal of all college students was attained. It was a memorable day for approximately 660 seniors, when the late Dr. E. C. Stopher handed them their degrees.

The years between that first day of registration during freshman week and the last time the graduate would walk in a solemn procession from McGilvrey hall to the auditorium were filled with fond memories. Even though they had worked hard toward their goal and reached it, it would be rather hard to leave a place that had so many enjoyable moments.

UNIVERSITY THEATRE

The past season of the University Theatre was perhaps the finest and most successful season in the Theatre's history. The five plays which were presented marked all-time highs in attendance records.

Wes Egan, the technical director of the University Theatre, directed his first play at the University, "Village Green". The play starred Ed Shelton, an "old-timer", and Phyllis Phillips, a "new-comer".

When the students returned in the fall, Professor E. Turner Stump directed the David Belasco production, "The Return of Peter Grimm". This play was well-received here at the university and was taken on the road to Central Michigan and Bowling Green.

The highly successful production of Lillian Hellman's "Another Part of the Forest" was given and Professor Earle Curtis served notice of future hits to come when he turned in a brilliant job in the direction of this play.

The hard-luck play, the annual freshman production, "Yes and No", was directed by Mrs. Katherine Norton. Postponement of the play was forced upon Mrs. Norton when just four hours before opening curtain one of the leads, Jackie Gelbman, was stricken with pneumonia. The play was re-scheduled at the beginning of the winter quarter and was a successful production.

Then came the theatre's annual classic production, William Shakespeare's immortal tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet". This play marked the return to the University Theatre of Professor G. Harry Wright after a successful season as director of the Kent State University Showboat, on the river last summer. Mr. Wright turned in his usual fine job of direction. Many new innovations in the Shakespearian drama were tested successfully by Mr. Wright and Mr. Egan, technical director. This completed a fine entertaining season by the UT.

SHOWBOAT

When the shriek of the calliope heralded the coming of the showboat on the Ohio and Kanawha rivers last summer, university students and their professors were aboard to revive the old-time entertainment.

Bringing back a bit of yesteryear, the floating theater served as both an actors' laboratory and a fond memory of days gone by. The hiss for the villain and the cheer for the hero were interspaced between vaudeville acts on the three-month tour, sponsored by KSU.

G. Harry Wright, professor of speech, chartered the show boat "Majestic", the last of its kind to play along the rivers, after a visit to its captain, T. J. Reynolds. At that time he inspected the "Majestic" and found it in excellent condition despite a war-enforced layoff.

Members of the cast hang the sign on the "Majestic".

Wilbur and Nick spend some time studying their lines.

A little relaxation between shows.

PRESENTS

Success to Professor Wright's plan to bring back the showboat was aided by 14 of his student actors, dancers, musicians, and singers at the university and nine students from Hiram college taking summer courses at Kent, who also made the trip.

It was conducted as a summer class with Prof. Robert I. Pearce, head of the Hiram speech department, who helped with the teaching and directing chores. The students slept, ate, and entertained on their buoyant classroom till Sept. 15.

The idea Prof. Wright had in mind was to bring back some of the cultural heritage of America. Wright, at present, is considered the outstanding expert on show boats in the United States.

STUDENT BODY

SENIOR CLASS

FIRST ROW: Owen McCafferty, Christine Vogt.
SECOND ROW: Jean Milford, Peter Ulrich.

Only a few of the dink hazed freshmen in the fall of 1945 scrubbed the university seal at Prentice Gate. The rest kept the Seal shining that year by stepping over it.

For the next three years, they made others scrub to keep the Seal bright. Then, at the 1949 June Commencement, they, much larger than last year's graduates, found the same university seal—still as bright as ever—impressed upon their degrees.

Approximately six hundred seniors elected a co-ed council of four to conduct their class affairs. This council included Owen McCafferty, Pete Ulrich, Christine Vogt, and Jean Milford.

Student Council chose Phil Dempsey as its president, and played the great game of campus politics very progressively. Other seniors aiding Dempsey in Council included Roger Howard, Martha Lansinger, Wally Kotouch, Clarence Peoples, Curtis Sarff, and Phil Brustein.

Dempsey also served as Managing Editor of the Kent Stater, and David Kaplan, another senior, held other campus posts such as Business Manager of the Chestnut Burr, vice-president of the ISA, Chief Justice of the Traffic Court, and editor and business manager of the 1949 student directory. Now it is up to the class of '50 to handle the important posts on campus.

JUNIOR CLASS

Activities of the Junior class were well under way following the fall quarter election of officers. Pres. Bill Jones took over his duties in December along with George Rybak, vice president, Gretchen Rader, treasurer, and Jacqueline Duke, secretary.

Plans were immediately set forth to sponsor the election of the most popular university man and woman. They were introduced at the annual 'Popularity Ball'.

The second big task which is undertaken yearly by the junior class is the preparation for the junior-senior prom. An affair which is always number one social event of the year lived up to its expectations and was an immense success in 1949.

Outstanding juniors in university activities were numerous and to name them all would take pages.

Marilyn Taylor was elected by student vote to reign as queen at Homecoming which was a huge success despite the loss to Bowling Green on the football field. Ruth Ann Gallagher became the "Miss Kent State" of 1949 in a close election.

In the University Theatre production of "Peter Grimm" junior Ed. Shelton very ably portrayed Peter. In sports the junior class's outstanding donations were Wib Little in football and Dale Haverstock and Leroy Thompson on the basketball floor.

Another year finished, the junior class now is looking forward to its last year at the university with as much enthusiasm as it showed upon entering the junior standing.

SOPHOMORES

When the final votes were gathered and counted it was found that history had repeated itself. For Dick Rice, last year's Freshman class president, had been elected sophomore class president.

His assistants in organizing the class included Cid Dettor, vice-president; Joanne Hall, secretary; and Stu Hull, treasurer. This group lead the class activities and planned for the class dance and picnic which was held.

The sophomore class could rightfully boast the athletic prowess of such athletes as Joe Kotys, 1948 Olympic gymnastic participant and letterman in wrestling, and swimming and gymnastics; Bob Pease, football; George Fulton, basketball; and Dean Johnston, swimming.

Of the four members on the Assembly Committee, three of them were members of the Sophomore class. They were David Brand, Dot Marburger and Pat Sutton.

In Student Council the sophomore class was represented by Nancy Reddrop, who was a holdover from the previous year.

Although late in organizing, the sophomore class rounded out in short order and was able to carry on the traditions that had been started by previous classes.

They are now prepared to take over some of the duties that will be bestowed on them as juniors and handle them with as much efficiency as they did their sophomore responsibilities.

FRESHMEN

"Youth, Youth, why must it be wasted upon the young."

We hate to disagree with GBS but it certainly hasn't been wasted upon this years 1300 freshmen. After the first hectic and confusing weeks the frosh put their shoulders to the wheel and nose to the grindstone and set down to work .

At the first freshman class meeting President Bowman spoke to the students informally about participation in extra-curricular activities. Introduced by Council President, Phil Dempsey, the Freshman class advisors Jo Haggerty and Chuck Fletcher explained class dues and balloting.

The Committee of 40 led by President Dick Davis was organized under the Booster Club for the advancement of school spirit among the Freshmen.

The Freshmen Players of the University Theater presented the hilarious English play, "Yes and No", by Kenneth Horne featuring Jackie Gelbman, Vern Roberts, Mary Lou Horne, Norma Remmy, Dick Johnston, and John Biggs in the major roles. The entire production was under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Moore Norton.

After hectic campaigning the Freshman class went to the polls with the following results: Ralph Gunnar was elected president; John Stahlman, vice-president; Betty Naugle, secretary, and Margaret Menges, treasurer. Gene Taggart, Larry Marchesano, Harry Moldoven and Bill Roberts were elected Frosh posts in Men's Union while Pete Demos, Marge Buckles, Leroy Tunnel and Bonnie Sue Rader were representatives on the Student Council.

A scene from the freshman presentation "Yes and No".

Hal Stoneman measures head sizes for freshman dinks.

"To dink or not to dink", that was the question which confronted some 1300 puzzled freshmen this fall.

However, after the butterflies left the stomachs of the "frightened and frustrated freshies" they set down to work, which is usually the case in all freshman classes.

Wherever there were freshmen there were lines.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

Seeing to it that there is better coordination among the fraternities on the campus is one of the primary aims of Inter-Fraternity Council.

Membership in this organization consists of the president of each fraternity and one other member of the fraternity. Their meetings are held on alternate Wednesdays.

For the past year Curt Sarff, Kappa Sigma Chi, was president, Don Smith, Alpha Phi Beta, was vice-president, secretary was Pete Culler of Gamma Tau Delta, and treasurer was John Finn of Delta Phi Sigma.

One of the main projects for the group is the awarding of the scholarship cup to the fraternity with the highest point average. This cup is presented to the winning group at a special banquet held during the spring quarter.

The council also controls rushing and pledging, serving as a coordinating body between the campus fraternities and the administration. At present all clubswishing to be installed as fraternities on the Kent campus must be passed on by Inter-Fraternity council before they can operate as a recognized local fraternity.

FIRST ROW: Dawn Kerkof, Carol Keidel, Lea Baumann, Margaret Fitzgerald.
SECOND ROW: Ruth Horably, Pat Schaeffer, Elizabeth Steve, Bonnie Kaiser

THIRD ROW: Marilyn Taylor, Shirley Baker, Marilyn Jones, Betty Mae Bertram, Marian Cleaton, Betty Reddrop.

PAN HELLENIC COUNCIL

Pan Hellenic council takes time out each fall from organizing rush lists and rules to sponsor the first tea of the rushing season, the annual Round Robin.

A bridge tournament is also sponsored by the council which awards a trophy each spring to the sorority having the highest scholastic average for the year.

Representatives from seven of the national sororities and one local sorority made up this year's council.

All rules governing rushing, pledging and other interfraternity relations are acted upon by the group.

Advisor for the council for the past year was Miss Rena Matson, assistant dean of women. This group works on close unity with the dean of women's office.

Officers for the group were Elizabeth Steve, president, and she was assisted in her tasks by Bonnie Kaiser, secretary and Pat Schaeffer, treasurer.

ATHLETICS

Trevor Rees

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

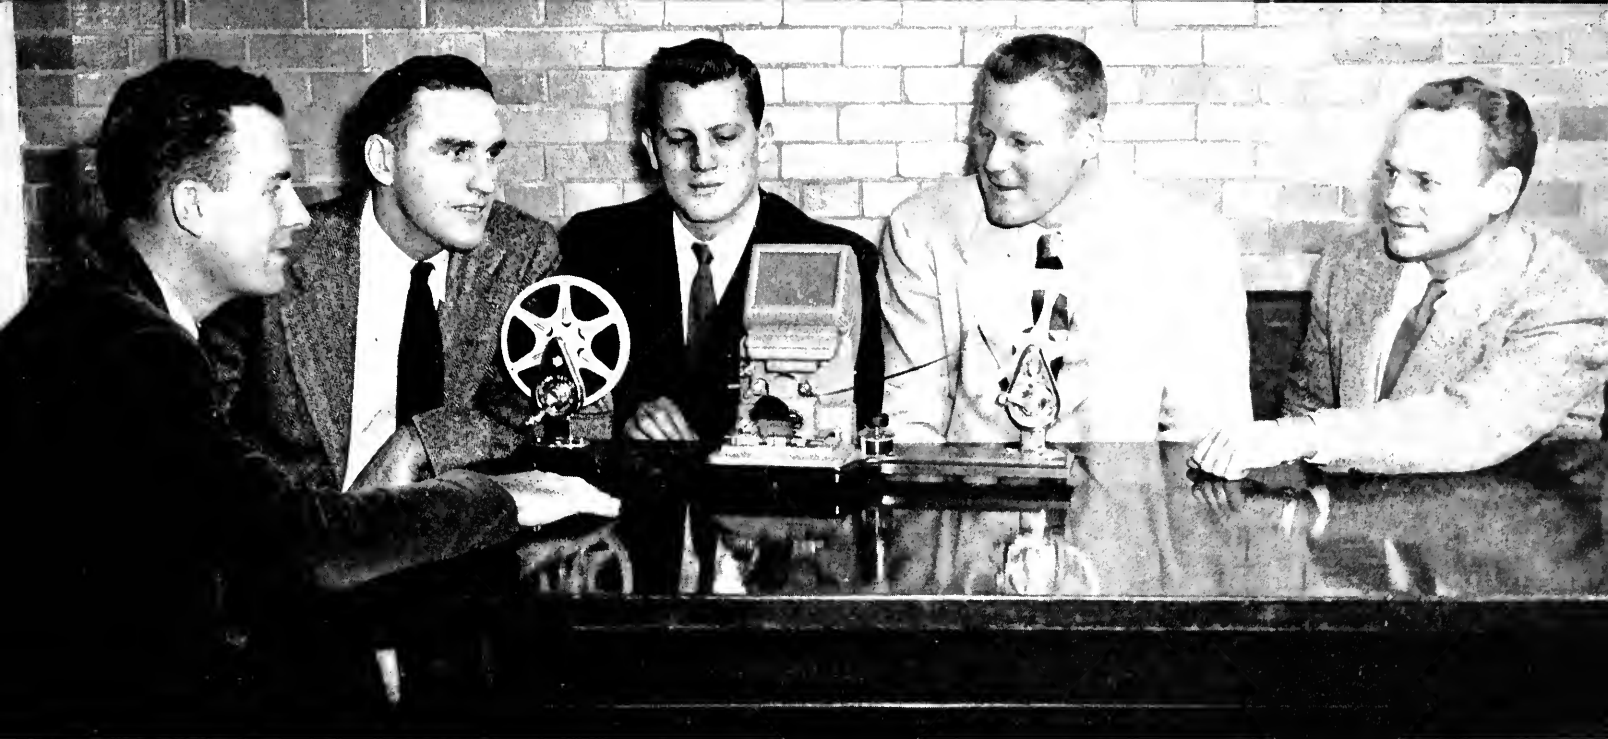

It's been a long road since Athletic Director Trevor Rees revived football at Kent State in 1946, but in those three years, "Trev" and his staff have brought this school to a position of high esteem in state football circles.

This year the Flashes invaded the East coast for the first such trip in school history and humbled the Huskies of Connecticut worse than the Yale Bulldogs, Levi Jackson and all, could do.

Trev has added some fine frosh and sophomore talent which will make the Flashes strong for many years to come.

Starting with a group of war veterans in 1946, Rees built his machine into a growing organization. The peak performances from that crew have not been reached yet, since most of them will still be around come next fall.

Rees, an All-American end at Ohio State in 1935, is assisted in his football chores by line-coach Wesley Stevens, ex-Purdue luminary, guard coach Karl Chesnutt of Ohio University, end coach Dave McDowell, one of the all-time greats of Muskingum college and George Lynn, captain of the national champion grid team at Ohio State in 1942.

COACHING STAFF: Trevor Rees, Wes Stevens, George Lynn, Dave McDowell, Karl Chesnutt.

Starting the '48 season off with a win over Mount Union, the Golden Flashes broke the Purple Raiders two-year record of not having been beaten on their home field.

All-Ohio Wilbur Little continued as in '47 by scoring all three of KSU touchdowns in the tilt with the final score being 18-0.

Working from the short punt formation, the Blue and Gold worked the two team system, offensive-defensive, to perfection. The Raiders were held to a net ground gain of 42 yards and picked up 66 yards via the aerial route. Kent picked up 338 yards.

Opening their home schedule, the Golden Wave rolled up a 39-0 win over a hapless Wooster eleven before a crowd of over 8,000.

Starting slowly, the Blue and Gold rolled for 32 markers in the second period. Two recovered fumbles and pass interceptions accounted for three of the second stanza six-pointers.

The victory broke a two game jinx held over KSU gridders by the Scots. In their only two previous meetings, 1937 and 1947, the Wooster club entered the clashes as underdogs and won both times.

The Yellow Jackets of Waynesburg College were next on the Blue and Gold victim list. Again waiting until the second quarter to move, the Flashes pushed over 14 points in that period and finished on the long end of a 34-7 count.

Kicking the first extra-point of the game, Frank Mesek started on a continuous successful place-kicking mark that reached 23 straight before the final curtain dropped on the season.

Despite a field wet from rain, the Blue and Gold moved 303 yards under the lights against only 74 for the Pennsylvanians and completed 6 out of 13 passes.

A Golden Flash tackler stops a Woosterite for no gain.

Sparked by Wib Little, the Golden Wave rolled for their fourth straight win of the year when they trekked to Central Michigan to take the measure of the Chip-pewa's 28-0.

Hitting for 332 yards on the ground and 37 in the air, the Flashes held the Chips to 98 yards. Ishen Williams, passing ace for the Chips, was held to only five completions for a total of 34 yards due to the fine defensive work of ends Radabaugh and Jim Betteker.

Two touchdowns were scored by Little, and Gene Hudson and Bob Beachy scored the remaining two for the day.

Instead of notching their fifth victory over the Red Cats of Western Reserve, the Reesmen picked up a 14-14 tie on a rain soaked League Park field before 3,400 fans.

Little again supplied the punch for the Blue and Gold as he slipped loose for 42 yards in the second quarter for the first score. Ray Hyser, defensive center intercepted a Red Cat pass and charged 36 yards for the final Flash score of the game.

Taking a second-half kick-off, Reserve speedster Len Corbin bulled from his own 3-yard stripe, straight up the field for the score. The game was tied in the final period by the Cats.

Still gunning for their fifth win, the Flashes hosted Youngstown College in a night tilt, but with the help of two pass interceptions, lost the battle, 19-7.

Lacking the services of Wib Little due to an ankle injury, the Flashes couldn't roll themselves, and also couldn't stop Al Campana, Penguin ace. Scoring two of the visitors touchdowns, Campana proved to be the same thorn in the Blue and Gold's side that he was in '47 when he also scored twice.

Holding their own in the statistical department, the Reesmen averted a shutout on a pass from Jerry Tuttle to Fred Russell.

With 12,000 Homecoming fans in the stands, the Blue and Gold fell before a powerful BeeGee combine as the Falcons continued their unbeaten skein.

In the first five minutes of the clash, the BeeGees capitalized on a fumble and a blocked kick to push over 14 points and eventually win the ball game, 23-14.

After the initial scoring, the Blue and Gold fought back and dominated the clash after the halftime intermission. Russell and Little each tallied but the Falcons were never headed. They picked up another six-points, and a safety rounded out the day's scoring.

Pushing over four touchdowns and one field-goal, the Golden Wave handed the Zippers a 31-0 defeat with Wib Little scoring three times.

Playing before 14,000 Rubber Bowl fans, the Flashes outclassed the Zips all the way as Little and former defensive back Fred Russell rolled up the yardage which totaled 341.

Joe Begala

WRESTLING

For 17 years, the university wrestling team has been in the hands of one man, Joe Begala. Back in 1929 Coach Begala came to Kent State and took over the mat squad from "Doc" Roberts and since then, except for war-time duty with the United States Navy, the Flash grapplers have been coached by him.

Including last year's decisions, the Blue and Gold matmen have an all-time percentage of .841 wins and three of the editions from "Begala's Beach" have gone through a season undefeated, which has won KSU quite a reputation in wrestling.

In his undergraduate days at Ohio university, Begala gained the title of "Iron Man" after winning both the 175-pound and heavyweight bouts in a match against Purdue university. His college activities also extended to the gridiron where he earned himself an All-Ohio title at guard.

Under Coach Begala's tutelage, the Flash squads, in addition to dual meet competition, have notched eight wins out of 11 tries at the annual inter-state meets held at Cleveland.

BASKETBALL

Taking over the reins of a college basketball team for the first time in his career, Dave McDowell turned out one of the best Blue and Gold hardwood squads of all time. Coming to the university in September, McDowell took the place of ex-Flash mentor Harry Adams who resigned last June.

The 235-pound, 27-year-old native of Cuyahoga Falls, has been mixed up in athletics since he entered school. At Falls high he participated in three sports and later at Muskingum college he captained both the basketball and football teams.

While at Muskingum in 1942 he was named to both All-Ohio and All-Ohio Conference basketball teams. Working with last year's squad with the exception of Bill Sudeck and Harry Anderson, McDowell has built this year's combine into one of Ohio's best hardwood teams.

Dale Haverstock, Fred Klasiner, Leroy Thompson, Jerry Amico, John Colliver and George Fulton, were the mainstays of McDowell's 1949 issue of the Flash quintet.

The same players will be back again next year to form a strong team with quite a bit of experience.

The 1948-49 basketball season was the best in the history of Kent State University, and it did a great deal to further the university's policy of endeavoring to inaugurate the "new era" in athletics.

Coach Dave McDowell's men achieved a record of 20 wins in 28 games, including the two Ohio conference tournament games, in which Kent won the first one against Mt. Union, but couldn't hit their stride in the following game and lost to Akron.

The team was led in scoring by All-Ohio Leroy Thompson, with Fred Klaisner, Captain Dale Haverstock, George Fulton and John Collver contributing heavily to the offensive power of the team.

Coach McDowell will have the starting five back again next year along with Jerry Amico and numerous other fine varsity men, which should give Kent another record breaking season to better the record achieved by this year's team.

Although the Golden Flashes didn't win the Ohio conference tournament, they were runners-up and received a fine trophy for their efforts.

In the Youngstown tournament held during the Christmas holidays the Flashes proved to be the toughest of the four teams and walked off with the championship and trophy without too much trouble.

Considering their won and lost record and these two tournament records, the coach, squad and student body can well be proud of this year's team.

In their three games with the arch rival Akron, the Flashes lost the first one on the Goodyear floor, but came back strong in the next game at Wills gym to win. The final game was played on the Wittenberg floor to determine the Ohio conference tournament champion. Akron proved to be the better of the two teams that night and won the championship.

The Flashes lost only one game on their home floor this season and that was to the powerful Falcons from Bowling Green.

Wes Kurtz scores a big one for Kent.

Highlighting the 1948 baseball season were two wins over the Akron university Zippers. Winding up their schedule with a mark of 12 wins against 7 losses, the victories over Akron made complete the year's athletic dominance over the Zippers.

The Blue and Gold nine also broke a record of nine years' standing. In 1939, the university nine rolled up seven wins. In the pitching department, big Hank Burmeister tossed six straight victories for the Flash combine.

A 13-0 beating handed to Baldwin-Wallace was the highest scoring tilt of the 20-game slate, and sparking the Wes Steven's coached outfit was hard-hitting short-stop, Chuck Gromely.

TRACK TEAM

Nineteen forty-eight's edition of the Kent State Golden Flashes turned in one of the finest set of records in university history as they racked up a five win, two loss mark and picked up third position in the Ohio conference meet held at Ohio Wesleyan.

Opening the season with two losses, Coach Joe Begala's thinclads bounced back to win the remainder of their scheduled dual meets. Bowing only to Muskingum and Bowling Green, the Flashes stopped Mt. Union, Case, Western Reserve, Hiram, and Fenn.

Sparking the squad were Henry Clark, Steve Eschuk, Tom Clark, Dick Mowery and George Morar.

 THIRD ROW: Robert Von Kaenel, Mgr., Kenneth Brown, Mgr., Dean Johnston, Lee Baker, Ned McKee, Tom Weigle, William Hoover, Coach.

SWIMMING TEAM

The swimming team coached by Bill Hoover ran up against some tough luck at the start of the season when a couple of the crack members were lost for the season, but the team came through in fine style to record a seven win, five lost record.

In the Fenn relays held in Cleveland, the team did better this year than they did last year when they copped a third in the relays compared to the fifth place of last year's team.

In the Ohio conference meet held at Kenyon this year, the natators captured third place. Joe Kotys won the Ohio conference diving crown.

This year's team was KSU's first entry in the National collegiate swimming meet held at Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

GOLF

Not since 1934 has the university had a golf team comparable to the '48 edition of the Flash linksmen. In addition to piling up eight wins against one loss in dual competition, the golfers took third place in the Ohio conference meet at Denison.

They also tied the university record of six consecutive wins. The original mark was set in 1934.

Falling before the on-slaught of the Flashes clubs were Mt. Union twice, Youngstown, Western Reserve, twice, Hiram and Akron.

In the Ohio State tournament, the Flashes notched seventh place.

Youngstown college spoiled the dual match record for the golfers of Coach Harry Adams as they turned the Flash linksmen back with a 10-6 defeat in the seventh meet of the year.

TENNIS

Reorganized for the first time since pre-war days under Karl Chesnutt, the Blue and Gold tennis team moved through a nine dual match schedule with a six win, three loss mark.

The victories came in pairs over Mt. Union, Kent State University Canton, and Hiram. Western Reserve took two decisions from the Flashes and Mt. Union's Purple Raiders copped the other.

Jim Kline and Dick Brownsberger trekked to Kenyon to represent the university in the Ohio conference match but failed to get past the first two days' competition.

Two shut-outs were effected by the squad as they blanked Mt. Union 9-0 and KSUC, 5-0. In their two wins over the Hiram Terriers, the combine gave up only one point each time as they triumphed 4-1 and 8-1.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

Working with more organizations and teams, Vic Moore directed and guided all phases of competition between the various fraternities and independent groups on the campus in another year of intramural sports.

Coming through as a dark horse, the Gamma Tau Delta fraternity copped the first place in interfraternity football competition, and then came back strong to win the all-university championship in volleyball, and capture the trophy in the fraternity swimming competition.

Maintaining their dominance as a basketball power, the Delta Phi Sigma's captured the all-university championship and also won games from the independent championship team from Hiram and the intramural champs from Akron university.

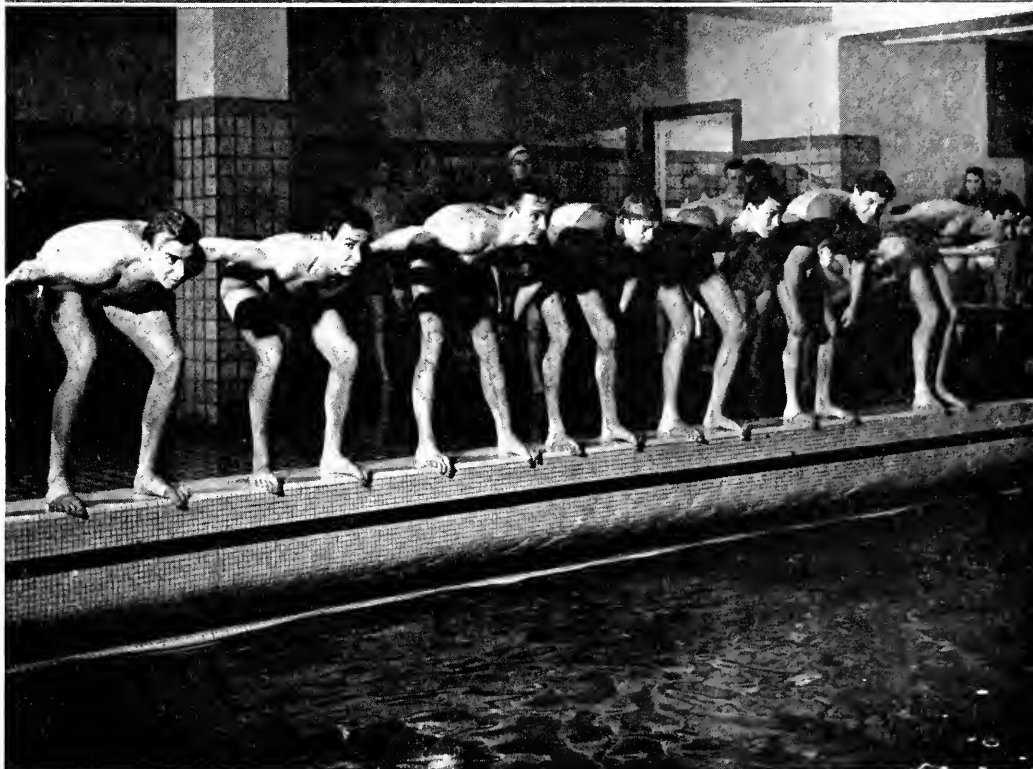

The Delts also were the winners of the interfraternity wrestling crown to give them two of the coveted trophies by mid-season.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

Under the auspices of the Women's Athletic Association board composed of representatives from each sorority and dormitory, university women participate in athletics in a program similar to men's intramurals.

They engage in ping-pong, soccer, badminton, volleyball, basketball, bowling and various other athletic events. The organization or sorority accumulating the most points receives the Women's Athletic Association trophy that is presented each year.

Last year the trophy was won by the Alpha Xi Delta's. This year the competition seems to be much keener and it is an open race so far which any team might win.

ORGANIZATIONS

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

The initial chapter of the nationwide dramatic honorary, Alpha Psi Omega, was founded at Kent in 1926 by E. Turner Stump and Paul Opp. The honorary now totals 245 chapters.

Membership is by invitation based on points received for work in radio or theater.

Nick Bozeka headed the honorary while the other officer was Dominic DeSimio. Nick was president while Dominic was secretary-treasurer. G. Harry Wright was advisor.

Social activities include a banquet for Alpha Psi Omega members and the speech staff.

FIRST ROW: Eddy Mauro, Jim Sharp, Bob Wallace, Wilbur Adams.

SECOND ROW: Bob McDonald, Janet Gillespie, Nick Bozeka, Delores Clark, Dominick De Simio.

THIRD ROW: Helen Mitrovka, Prof. John Montgomery, Russ Gillis, Prof. Walton Clarke, Prof. G. Henry Wright, Prof. Eleanor Gray.

SECOND ROW: Henry Shapiro, Roger Baele, Emmanuel Karbeling, Betty Rowlen, Gordon Goldsmith, Sonya Goldsmith, Doris Carpenter, David Kaplan, Jean Stage, Robert McMaken, Robert Kidd.

Landscapes, fashions, animals and color photographs marked the high spots in this year's salon exhibits of the Lens and Shutter club.

All-day as well as evening field trips were made by the group in order to give the shutterbugs a chance at better pictorial material.

Social gatherings are not neglected by these camera enthusiasts who turned out for parties during the holiday season, the short course and the spring quarter.

Membership is open to any university student interested in photography either as a hobby or a profession.

Robert Kidd served as president with Rosemary Acierno and Roger Baele assisting him. Prof. James Fosdick was advisor for the group.

The French club, whose purpose is to increase interest in the French language and culture, was reorganized in its present form in 1935 by Helen Machan and Belle Rowlen.

From the original 3, the organization has grown to a maximum of 30 and was active throughout the war. For the past year the organization has been guided by Doris Merton, president, with the assistance of Lucille Hyman, Betty Abbott, June Steigerwald, and Harvey Cummings. Advisors are Helen Machan and John Hipple.

ZETA IOTA

Encouragement and recognition of high scholarship in the business field is one of the principle aims of Zeta Iota, women's business honorary. In keeping with this aim they award a plaque to the member with the highest scholastic rating.

Eighteen members of the honorary sponsor open meetings and parties for all the women in business administration, secretarial science and business education.

Eileen Young, president, heads the list of officers which includes, June Hirka, vice-president; Angeline Scorcous, secretary and Dorthea Helman, treasurer. Miss Louise Wheeler is the active advisor of the honorary.

New members of the organization are chosen primarily on the basis of scholastic achievement.

FIRST ROW: Ruth Snyder, Charlotte Grimes, Carolyn Collin, Eileen Horner.
SECOND ROW: Aurelia Adams, Miss Louise Wheeler, advisor, Eileen Young, Angeline Scorcous, Dorthea Helman.
THIRD ROW: Marilyn Woodling, Gerry Olewinski, Jean Milford, Pat Hess, Shirley Edwards.

FIRST ROW: Yoshino Tamashiro, Phyllis Miday.
SECOND ROW: Maria Fiori, Lucille Hyman, Mrs. Estella Striplin, Charlotte Caldwell, Deane Ritter.
THIRD ROW: Charlotte Grimes, Carol Shindledecker, Barbara King, Lois Dorsey, Jerry Rigby.

Engleman Hall, named for the former president of the university, houses 235 upperclass women.

Along with individual participation in all campus activities, the residents of the hall participate as a group in Pork Barrel, Campus Day parade, and Penny Carnival. This year Engleman was awarded the Homecoming Decoration trophy and the Pork Barrel trophy in the dormitory division.

Governing the hall this year were Lucille Hyman, Charlotte Caldwell, Maria Fiori, Lois Dorsey, Joshino Tamashiro, and Phyllis Miday.

Mrs. Striplin is head resident.

The members of the hall held a winter formal this year in Akron and according to all reports it was a gala affair.

ALLOCATIONS COMMITTEE

One of the university's most important groups is the Allocations Committee which allots money to various campus organizations from the student activity funds. This amount totalled approximately $85,000.00 this year.

After this money is allotted it must be approved by student council.

Composed of 18 representatives and four advisors appointed by student council, the committee chairman was Warren Lashley and secretary was Rosemary Grizinsic.

Advisors to the committee are Drs. Donald Anthony, Stanley Corey, Kenneth Kelly, and Mr. Paul Beck, business manager of the university.

Kent State's unit of the American Newspaper Guild is the largest collegiate chapter in the country. It boasts sixty members who actively participate on the various student publications.

Picnics, dances and other social events fill the social calendar of the year old organization.

The guild assists its members with their preparation for the newspaper field. It also provides a chance for students to become acquainted with prominent members from the various fields of the newspaper industry.

Jerry Mekler performed the presidential duties during the absence of Larry Vitsky in the winter quarter. Other officers were Bill Kalaher, Gloria Sherrets and Clarence Peoples.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER GUILD

CHEMISTRY CLUB

To further interest in chemistry among KSU students is the purpose of the Chemistry club and also the "Chemistry Club News" pamphlet published by the members.

Several members have been cited by the American Chemical Association for "Excellence in Chemistry".

The club has men from industry and the faculty as speakers at their business meetings, which also are in the form of field trips to neighboring cities.

The officers are James Buzard, president, and James Butcher, Joan Schilling, Audrey Kana, and Charles Bammerlin. Dr. C. Carroll is advisor.

Thos. F. Drouillard, C. R. Bammerlin, Tony DeGidio, Joan Schilling, Mary Misko, Marjorie Miller, Audrey Kana, Joyce Bates, Kathryn Panis, Robert L. Arrangements for two of the Journalism department's activities, the publications banquet and the N.E.O.S.P. clinic, are handled by Chi Pi, men's journalism honorary.

A local, the fraternity is working hard for the attainment of one of its chief goals, to become affiliated with Sigma Delta Chi, the national fraternity.

Nineteen men, active on campus publications and with high scholastic ratings, comprise this year's membership roll.

Special guest speakers of the profession are featured at both the regular and dinner meetings.

Larry Vitsky and Bill Girgash served as president and vice-president respectively. They were aided by Clarence Peoples, secretary and Bill Baum, treasurer.

Abstract paintings, white pillars, spun glass and dry ice combined to form the unique background for this year's most original dance, the Masque Ball.

Sponsored by the Art club, the dance is an annual event. This is not the only dance the group decorates. Their artistic talents are frequently called upon to transform Wills gym or Moulton music room into an "out-of-this-world" place.

Thirty-four active members have worked together this year under the direction of Richard Pope, president. Other officers were Wally Katouch, vice-president, Nancy King, secretary, Douglas McDonald, treasurer and Dick Kirchner, social chairman.

Miss Cicirello, instructor of art, acted as faculty advisor to the group.

FIRST ROW: Pat McGrail, Art Davies, Leo Damore, Pat Diamond, Janet Copley, Don Dornback, Holly Gier, Len Dockus, Dick Rice.
 SECOND ROW: Joe Friedman, Michael Bibee, Bonnie Sue Rader, Jane Greer, Marilyn Hall, Chuck Charlesworth, George Wilson.
 THIRD ROW: Roland Patzer, Dick Chapman, Terry Atkinson, Bill Weir, Paul Timko, John Brandy, Bob Moore, Dick Frame, Roy Matheson.

Pep rallies, fight show, stadium drive, membership drive, assemblies—yes, the Booster club has had a busy year.

Over 1200 students, faculty members, and friends of Kent State university comprise the group that prides itself in the fact that it is boosting a great university.

During the fall quarter, the greatest pep rallies in the history of the school highlighted the grid campaign of the Golden Flashes. Torches lighted the way, guest speakers were on hand, the university band paraded, throngs of enthusiastic Flash followers were awed by the spectacles.

The winter quarter of 1949 brought Bill Reichard, one of the school's outstanding Boosters, in as president. Bright prospects fill the air for the coming year.

BLUE KEY

FIRST ROW: Lawrence Avril, Roger Howard, Paul Snyder, Curt Sarff, Donald Warman, John Finn, David Kaplan, Philip Brustein, Warren Lashley.

SECOND ROW: David Freed, Irving Wheatley, Nick Bozeka, Harold Stoneman, Larence Vitsky, Fred Scadding, Wade Milford, Wallace Kotouch, Owen McCafferty, Philip Dempsey, Richard Paskert, Myron Gilbert, Charles Whitehead, Robert Weymueller, Neal Manning, William Becherer, Don E. Smith, Germane Swanson, Neil Crandall, Irving Hahn, Martin Leiman, Louis Federico.

Paul Snyder, Dean Manchester, Don Warman.

Publishing the student directory was again undertaken by the members of Blue Key. This is sold to the students without profit by the Blue Key as an example of the services offered by the men's national honorary.

The organization is now in its seventeenth year on the campus and numbers approximately thirty-five members.

Blue Key upholds its motto, "Serving I Live", by taking charge of Frosh Week and helping with the Stadium drive and voting details.

Cardinal Key, the women's national honorary, assists Blue Key in staging the annual Penny Carnival each year.

The president for the Blue Key for the past year was Don Warman aided by Curt Sarff. Paul Snyder was secretary and John Finn was treasurer. Faculty advisor for the honorary group is Raymond E. Manchester, Dean of Men.

CARDINAL KEY

FIRST ROW: Maria Fiori, Carol Hart.

SECOND ROW: Elaine Brown, Martha Lansinger, Rosemary Grzincic, Lois Musick, Joan McDermott, Rosemary Acierno.

THIRD ROW: Angeline Scourcos, Lea Baumann, Doris Merton, Joyce Bates, Gloria Sherrets.

FIRST ROW: June Hirka, Lucille Hyman.

SECOND ROW: Sally Yingst, Ann Irons, Eilleen Young.

Outstanding is an apt description of one of the campuses leading honoraries, Cardinal Key, women's national service honorary. The word also fits the projects sponsored by the organization as well as the members who are chosen to wear its key.

Among their red letter events are Campus Day, Family day and Penny Carnival.

The most outstanding senior woman receives a cup awarded by the honorary.

Participation in campus activities, high scholarship and character form the basis for election to membership in the honorary.

Capably handling the presidential duties this year was Ann Irons. Assisting her were Lucille Hyman, vice-president; Sally Yingst, recording secretary; Eilleen Young, corresponding secretary, and June Hirka, treasurer.

LOWRY HALL

FIRST ROW: Guenveur Harper, Laura Perniece.
SECOND ROW: Rosalia Fiori, Eleanor Krempaski, Donna DuRivage.
THIRD ROW: Joan Borts, Barbara Lightfoot, Kameyo Mijasaki.

Having the distinction of being the oldest dormitory on the Kent campus, Lowry Hall houses 150 students.

Until the cafeteria in the new Student Union is completed, Lowry is serving as eating quarters for all dormitory women on the campus.

During the year the hall has many social activities and is also a keen competitor in Penny Carnival, Campus Day Parade, Pork Barrel and Homecoming.

Rosalia Fiori was Lowry president, assisted by Eleanore Krempasky, vice-president; Mary Donna DuRivage, secretary; Kameyo Mijasaki, treasurer; Guenveur Harper was social chairman.

Lowry Hall is the interlude between frosh and upperclass houses. Mrs. E. M. Russell is head resident.

MOULTON HALL

FIRST ROW: LaVerne Schick, Gweneth Jones, Holly Gier.
SECOND ROW: Bernadine Hardesty, Martha Buckels, Mrs. Eleanor Lallance, Ruth Watson, June Smith, Thelma Petro.

This is home for the 200-odd Freshmen for their first year here at KSU. Although most of the girls are inexperienced to the ways of college life, the girls at Moulton carried on a full program of social activities equal to that of either of the upperclass dorms.

Officers for the Moultonites for the past year were LaVerne Schick, Gweneth Jones, Holly Gier, Bernadine Hardesty, Martha Buckels, Ruth Watson, June Smith, and Thelma Petro.

A Christmas dance, the Mint Prom, was held in Moulton Music Room prior to the holidays for the members of Moulton.

Mrs. Eleanore Lallance was housemother at the freshman dorm for the fourth year.

MEN'S UNION

FIRST ROW: Fred Scadding, Larry Marchasano, Paul Snyder, George McClellan.
SECOND ROW: Myron Gilbert, Bill Kalaher, John Finn, Jim O'Brien, Harry Moldovan.

FIRST ROW: Dean Manchester, Neal Manning.
SECOND ROW: Bob Beachy, George Groft, Tom Welsh, Guy Shelley.

Presenting one of the biggest shows, Pork Barrel, on the campus is only one of the tasks carried on by Men's Union.

These shows are sponsored in cooperation with Women's League. Planning for rehearsals, the final program, judges, and other small details are just part of the tasks connected with presenting this show.

Also this year, Men's Union working with Women's League and the Art club presented the annual Masque Ball.

The organization is headed by Neal Manning as president and the faculty advisor is genial Dean Manchester, dean of men.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

FIRST ROW: Eleanore Krempasky, Dawn Kerkhof, Dolores Kne, Barbara Berg.
SECOND ROW: Peg Boone, Holly Geir, Charlotte Caldwell, Priscilla Thompson, Dr. Ada V. Hyatt.
THIRD ROW: Marilyn Woodling, Shirley Edwards, Elizabeth Robinson, Jo Haggerty.

SEATED: Dean Ada V. Hyatt, Peg Boone.
STANDING: Shirley Edwards, Elizabeth Robinson, Joan Haggerty.

To promote closer relations among women students and between women students and their school through representatives of every women's organization on campus is the purpose of the Women's League.

The Big-Little Sister Tea, at which upperclass women meet the freshmen who they will aid throughout the coming year, and the Senior Women's Banquet are given by the League.

The Executive Council of 15 members represent the woman enrollment. Margaret Boone served last year as president while Ann Irons was vice-president; Shirley Edwards, secretary; Jo Haggerty, treasurer; and Elizabeth Robinson, student court chairman.

FRIARS CLUB

FIRST ROW: Andy Mangione, Frank Romeo, Dwight Strayer, Neno Venetta, Sal Gatti, Ed Sikora.

THIRD ROW: Bob Rowden, George Caso, Al Rohaley, Mel Bradich, Ed Macejko, Henry Eagen.

FIRST ROW: Leo Morley, Bob Downer, Joe Broz, Kenny Haina, Mark Carroll, Dick Abrahams.

SECOND ROW: Vinnie Bocchino, Bob Fuehrer, Prof. John Goudeau, advisor, Larry Calby, Paul Mathews, Dick Dzurec, Bernie Suhayda.

THIRD ROW: Tom DiCola, Louis Fazzi, Louis Spinetti, John Finn, Gus Contrera, Tom Drouillard, Dick Logan, Tony Weissgarber, Dave Sebesta.

Sal points out an interesting subject to Larry.

The Friars' Club was formally organized on January 27, 1948, by twenty students interested in forming a fraternity for Catholic men. With this aim in mind the members have developed one of the most prominent organizations on campus.

Now having a membership of sixty men, the Friars have been very active socially. Each of the eight sororities on campus has been a guest in their home at 225 East College street where they have been residing since June, 1948.

Although the Friars are still in their infancy, they have already set the precedent for future members with the traditional "Gold Cup" formal dance to be held each winter quarter. For each quarter since their founding, the Friars have had a formal dance.

Other traditions which the club has formulated are "The Friar", a monthly publication by the club, and Communion Sunday. The first Sunday of each month all of the brothers receive Holy Communion in a body at St. Patrick's church.

Contributing their donation toward the stadium drive, the Friars' Club brought Spike Jones to K.S.U.'s campus. For two and one-half hours the audience split their sides with laughter at the "Big Nail" and his City Slickers' musical madness in his "Musical Depreciation Review".

Realizing the potentialities for a group of young men having one common belief, Catholicism, the members of the Friars' Club are whole-heartedly striving to promote intellectual and social inspiration on the campus. They look forward to becoming a local and someday a national fraternity.

DELTA SIGMA THETA

Promotion of Christian ideals and closer fellowship of college men is the aim of one of Kent's newest organizations, Delta Sigma Theta, national Methodist men's fraternity.

The local chapter, Sigma, was officially installed June 5, 1948 when 21 men were initiated. Membership is now at 28.

Following the initiation of the fall pledge class the fraternity's attention was focused on the Valentine Sweetheart dance. They also participated in many of the social activities of Wesley Foundation.

William H. Saltsman directed the fraternity's activities. Assisting him were Charles Kendig, David Sprang, Hobart Adams, John Collins, Bill Nicol, William Barth and Harold Province.

C.A.R.E. packages were sent to the Europeans by the Elementary Education club which also co-operated in the European Teacher's aid program this year.

Approximately 50 elementary education majors comprise the membership of the organization.

Social highlight of the year was the spring banquet.

Monthly meetings frequently feature outstanding speakers in the profession.

Marion Brunswick performed the presidential duties for the organization. Janet Crawford served as secretary-treasurer and social chairman. Miss Susanne Koehler acted as faculty advisor to the group.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

DAUGHTERS OF MARY CLUB

Campus Night 1948 is well remembered for the trophy it brought to the recently organized Daughters of Mary club. The club was only two months old when it captured the Independent trophy in the annual parade of floats.

Efforts of the members are directed toward a common goal—to become a local catholic sorority.

Meanwhile the club is participating in various university activities including Pork Barrel and the Row Boat Regatta.

Directing the club's activities were Joan Beckman, assisted by Betty Buckley, Frances Stone, Delores Volpe, and Phyllis Cye. Miss Mellert and Rev. Cunningham acted as advisors to the group.

FIRST ROW: Frances Stone, Miss Mellert, Jean Beckman.

SECOND ROW: Mary Popovitch, unidentified, Evelyn Kalesar.

FIRST ROW: Geraldine Carroll, Cletus Fisher, Warren Lashley, Robert Benjamin, Louise Holbert.

Host to different debate tournaments is only one of the many activities carried on by the Forensic Club here at the university.

Traveling around to different area high schools and

Ohio intercollegiate events were also sponsored by the local group headed by the student forensics director Warren Lashley.

CONCERT BAND

The concert band, now celebrating its twentieth anniversary of continuous existence, was conducted by its founder, Roy D. Metcalf, in the spring performance at James Ford Rhodes high school auditorium in Cleveland during the season. Featured was the Poem by Griffes, with Raymond DeMattia, flutist, as soloist.

Officers of the band for the past year were John Bonfar, president; Charles Parsons, vice-president; and Joe Chidley, secretary.

MARCHING BAND

Definitely adding a colorful attraction to the football games last fall was the marching band, whose routines were both clever and well-executed.

The band also helped the booster club in making their spirited pep-rallies such a success by playing for them and leading the parades downtown.

The band, under the direction of Roy D. Metcalf, consists of the women's and men's band, student directed by Joyce Conkle and Ralph Faulk.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

Winners of the independent division trophy for Pork Barrel for two successive years is the Industrial Arts club.

Activities of the club are many and varied. Besides sponsoring speakers, movies and field trips concerned with the profession they participate in many social affairs co-sponsored with the Home Economics club.

The 40 members also find time to enjoy barn dances and a spring banquet.

Another function of the organization is the publication of the "NEOIAN", North Eastern Ohio Industrial Arts News, each quarter.

The official roster lists Joseph Bell, president, assisted by William Myers, Robert Hammer, Warren Foley, and Delmar Olsen, advisor.

FIRST ROW: John Kalo, Claire Noftzgen, Victor Naples, Jerry Haught, John Riddell, Kenneth Siebenallen.

FIRST ROW: Bill Christenson, Juanita Simmons, Olin Ulrey, Grace Margaret Wolf, Carl Blackburn, Tom Spencer, Dorothy Clinkscales, Jim Woodward.

SECOND ROW: Ruby Ulrey, Jean Brew, Eileen Hopkins, Teresa Edgar, Alice Spencer, Lois Porter, Evelyn Miller, Jean Apitz.

THIRD ROW: Donald Rhinemiller Jr., Ted Perry, John Deaver, Marian King, Charlotte Moon, Barny Hoanish, George Way, Richard Tanner.

"To know Christ and to make him known" is the primary aim of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship. This group was founded in 1946 and has grown from a daily prayer meeting of three students to a recognized university organization of about 35 active students.

The activities of this group consist of student conducted daily prayer meetings and weekly Bible studies. Occasionally, veteran missionaries speak.

Herbert Wilbur, head of the accounting department, is faculty advisor. Carl Blackburn is president; Tom Spencer, vice-president; and Grace Margaret Wolf, secretary-treasurer.

INTER - VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

The Interdenominational Student Christian Council's main objective is to promote and plan cooperative religious programs and activity on the campus.

The group spent a great deal of time in publicizing and collecting money for the World Student Service Fund. At present there are fourteen members in the organization representing seven different groups.

The president for the past year was Jack Loney. His assistants were Joan Schilling, secretary; June Hirka, treasurer, with Rev. Don Barss, Rev. Forest Bond, Rev. Laten Carter and Prof. Edward Pake acting as advisors for the group.

FIRST ROW: June Hirka, Joan Schilling, Dorothy Clinkscales.

Recognition of future teachers outstanding in scholarship was continued this year by Kappa Delta Pi. Upper-division students with a cumulative average of B or better in the departments of kindergarten-primary, elementary, or secondary education are eligible in this honorary.

The organization had for a special activity this year the sponsorship of a Future Teachers of America chapter at Kent.

Outstanding scholarship students in the various colleges of the university are recognized by Kappa Delta Pi at its annual tea on Scholarship Day.

The honorary was led in its activities by Maria Fiori, with the assistance of Robert Adams, Kathryn Frase and Chris Artale. Advisor is Gerald Read.

Residents of Unit A

TERRACE LODGE

With the beginning of the winter quarter, 1947, approximately 250 unsuspecting male students of Kent State university deposited their meager belongings in the living quarters known as Terrace Lodge.

Since its opening, Terrace Lodge residents have participated in all forms of campus activity, including varsity and intramural sports, the theater, musical groups, and to varying degrees scholastic undertakings.

The Lodges are divided into five separate units.

Recently inaugurated has been the "Dean Manchester Scholastic Trophy", a circulating award granted to the unit attaining the highest point average each quarter. The initial award was made to unit E covering the Fall quarter 1948.

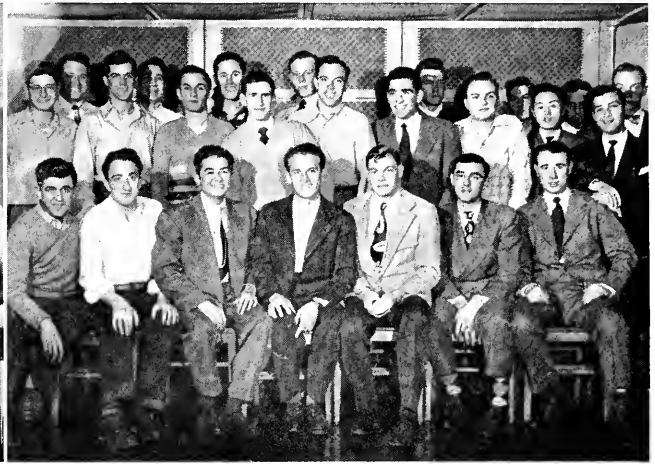

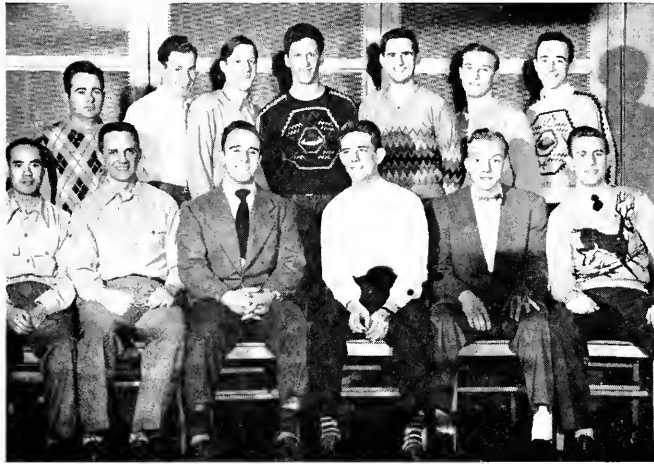

Although it has no constitutional government of its own, the various units are ably supervised by resident upper-classmen, designated as Proctors, who have as one of their main responsibilities mediation between residents and school authorities.

KAPPA PHI

Kappa Phi's and their guests danced amid a profusion of valentines at their annual formal dance on February 18.

A winter banquet for their pledges was another highlight in the national Methodist sorority's social calendar.

A special program, often featuring an outstanding speaker, is planned for each semi-monthly meeting.

Activities for the 41 members have been under the direction of Phyllis Province. Jean Davidson acted as vice-president with June Hirka, recording secretary; Marjory Miller, corresponding secretary and Audrey Kana, treasurer. Other officers were Joan Davidson, Juanita Colston and Carolyn Schupp. Sponsor of the group is Mrs. Dale Hostetler.

Entertaining high school students at the annual high school press clinic is one of the many services given by Lambda Phi, women's journalism honorary.

At present the local is on their second probationary period prior to going Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism national honorary.

Besides entertaining high school students, the honorary edits "Jargon", a publication for all journalism students and alumns, and they award a cup for the outstanding woman journalist every year at the annual publications banquet.

Gloria Sherrets was the president, and she was assisted by Jan Kemp, Rosemary Acierno and Norma Van Bethuysen.

LAMBDA PHI

PHI ALPHA THETA

Psi chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary, was formed from the local historical society at Kent State in 1938.

The members of Phi Alpha Theta are juniors and seniors who have taken at least eighteen hours of history, with grades of B or better.

The presidential chores for the past year have been handled by Joe Appleby. Advisor for the national honorary was Dr. Gertrude Lawrence.

FIRST ROW: D. Erlewine, W. Dugan, C. Hall, M. Ancik, D. Infield, C. Bammerlin, G. Ulvild. SECOND ROW: H. Belden, L. Hyman, G. Bird, J. Buzzard, J. Bates, B. Marty, Dr. Dexter. THIRD ROW: T. David Kaplan, Business Manager

BURR STAFF

Publishing a year book was a new experience for the 1949 Chestnut Burr Staff.

Editor Germane Swanson started working on the dummy last June to start the wheels of progress rolling, while business manager David Kaplan was busy setting up a budget and talking to engravers and printers about the contracts.

Bob Phillips was associate editor, who saw to it that the photographers turned their pictures in on time.

The different sections in the book were handled by different editors.

B. J. Bartlow and Betty Rowlen handled the organizations section. Neil Heaslip was editor of the sports section, with Frank Leonard and Ruth Horably handling the fraternities and sororities.

In the art department, Ed Karakul was editor and he was assisted by Don Bickel, Dick Rice, Mary Jane Burton and Ted Burke.

Robert Kidd was chief photographer and he headed the photography crew, with Vic Werner and Emie Czetli doing the portrait work.

Assisting David Kaplan was Chet Arnold and Fred Nader.

KENT STATER STAFF

Giving coverage of all campus activities requires nearly full-time work of the dozen or so workers on the daily Kent Stater. Published four times weekly, the paper requires the services of three editors throughout the school year.

The three editors for the past year were George Heaslip, for the summer term, Bob Weymueller in the fall quarter and Bill Girgash in the winter quarter.

The business end of the paper was handled by Stan Summergrad in the summer, Neil Crandall in the fall quarter and Kenneth Webb in the winter quarter.

Covering the sporting events for the Daily Stater were George Scriven, Neil Heaslip, Bob Morrison, Jay Evans and Bill Dunbar.

Features for the paper were handled by Al Post, Robert West, Sylvester Nemes and Leo Damore.

The Kent Stater again took honors at the Ohio Scholastic Press Association, and was represented at a national conference in the Fall.

"Putting the paper to bed" was the job of the different edition editors and page editors, and it wasn't until late at night when the final page proofs were pulled.

FIRST ROW: Setsuko Tamashuro, Phyllis Province, Bess Constantine, Bonnie Strauss.

SECOND ROW: Mary Bricker, Helen Garrison, Alice Jones.

"The power behind the throne" aptly describes the Home Economics club which is responsible for much of the social life of the department.

Every fall term is opened with a "buddy" picnic. A dinner at Christmas, a fun night in the kitchen and a Valentine party with the industrial arts club highlighted the social calendar. The year's activities were climaxed in the spring with a Senior Honor Breakfast.

Not only a social organization but also a service one, the club presented Christmas gifts to the Kent Child Welfare association for needy children.

Officers of the organization were Bess Constantine, president; Bonnie Strauss, first vice-president; Setsuko Tamashiro, second vice-president; Alice Jones, recording secretary. Dr. Alice Ryder was the club advisor.

SECOND ROW: Smith Line, Charles Taff, Lawrence Dixon, Henry Ford, Clifford Hancock.

At present there are 50 active undergraduate members in Delta Sigma Pi, international professional business fraternity, and 26 alumni-faculty members on the campus.

Pre-registration red-tape is simplified in the College of Business Administration through the cooperation of the Beta Pi local chapter here at the university.

Membership in the honorary fraternity is open to those male students regularly enrolled in the College of Business Administration, with a scholastic average of at least 2.5 at the time of application.

The aims of this organization are to foster the study of business in universities, encourage scholarship, promote closer affiliation between the commercial world and students in commerce and to further a higher standard of commercial ethics and culture.

The headmaster for the past year was Vincent Hudec, and he was assisted by Lawrence Avril, William Underwood, Leonard Jarvis, Jay Larsen and Morris Galloway.

The faculty advisor was Professor Charles Taff.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club, a federation of Roman Catholic college students, has as its aim the deepening of the spiritual and enriching of the temporal lives of its members through a balanced program of religious, intellectual and social activities.

Mass, Communion, and a yearly retreat are offered in order that members may practice their religion in a group.

Other activities include communion breakfast, two all university dances and an installation banquet.

Frank J. Zima directed the activities of the club with the assistance of Kenneth Haina, Dorothy Paul, Amabile Venetta, Maria Fiori, and Geraldine Carroll. George J. Altman is advisor and Rev. Father John Cunningham, moderator.

Officers of UCF.

The United Christian Fellowship is a program sponsored by six churches to provide a ministry to students in the university environment.

The cooperating denominations are: Baptist, Congregational, Christian, Reformed, Universalist, and Presbyterian. If you hold membership in one of these churches or if you do not have a church home, you may become an active member.

The purpose of UCF is to foster the expression of religious values in all areas of the university, encourage students to develop purposeful Christian living, help students grow in churchmanship, and to maintain a Christian student fellowship.

At present there are 125 members in the organization. President is Sidney Mountcastle and he is assisted by Pegge Cerull and Gordon Koeckert.

SECOND ROW: Bruce Abbey, Ross Whitemeyer, William Hawkins, Arthur Simons, Pete Thanos.

THIRD ROW: Elmer Dauphin, Raymond Perme, Lloyd Butler, George Shields, Evan Akers.

To give its members added training in management by speakers in the field of business and also by movies is the worthwhile goal of the Society for the Advancement of Management.

Two banquets were held last year at the Mayflower hotel in Akron for the members and guests of SAM.

The Society for the Advancement of Management is the recognized national professional society of management people in industry, commerce, government and education.

This organization represents no special interest, it is motivated by a selfless zeal to spread the benefits of scientific management.

This recently founded organization has in two years increased its membership from 16 to 60 upper-division students in the college of Business Administration.

President of the organization was Thomas L. Shubert; Martin Barrett was vice-president; William Gulich, secretary; and David Sprang, treasurer. Professors Francis Mull and Ardin Hayes were advisors.

ORCHESTRA PERSONNEL: Ethel Bakay, Albert Hirzel, Majorie Stewart, Dean Infield, Leon Carapetyan, Herbert Kaley, Clayton Chisholm, Louise Dillon, Stanley Guise, Harold Greenwald, Martha Lansinger, Caroline Arnold, Stylvia Beeman, Catherine Questel, Robert Rehula, Robert Smith, Robert Fields, Joseph Chidley, Charles Whitehead, Alice Hoover, Donald Erb, Harvey Heiss, Walter Portmann, Richard Cooley, Walter Chisholm.

ORCHESTRA

Highlighting the concert season the past year was the joint performance by the university orchestra and choirs. The audience enjoyed Beethoven's "Coriolanus Overture", Schubert's "Symphony No. 5", and Haydn's "The Imperial".

In other appearances, the orchestra conducted by Walter Cervený, provided the background music for the "Messiah".

Albert G. Hirzel was president of the group and Catherine Questel, secretary.

TAU KAPPA CLUB

FIRST ROW: Steve Barchalk, Al Denholm.

SECOND ROW: John Harp, Bob McClelland, Phil Graham, Gene Guthrie, Bob Colson, Fred Kloos.

THIRD ROW: Dick Davis, John Jobes, Dick Chapman, Tom Hefferon, John Kordas, Bill Brown, Bob Stredney, Bill Drabelich.

Recognition as the ninth fraternity on the Kent State campus was given this year to the Tau Kappa club. Founded two years ago, the group now consists of 28 members.

Among other social activities the club sponsored the Snowball dance with benefits going to the Stadium Drive.

President Charles Wagner led the group in its activities with the assistance of Wayne Thomas, George Hettinger, Tom Caldwell, John Born, Jim Tisci, and Wes Karas.

PHI KAPPA CLUB

The boys give out with a melody.

TOP—The officers of the club hold a discussion.
BOTTOM—Looks like a bull session to us.

The growth of the Phi Kappa club since its founding two years ago has been indicative of its active and increasing participation in campus functions. Founded by Harry Snyder, Richard Hyer, and Donald Clough, the membership in the organization now totals 53. The club was awarded the songfest cup of 1948 in the independent division.

Among the various social activities engaged in by the members of the Phi Kappa club for the past year has been a Founders Banquet, plus participation in the many athletic events held on the campus throughout the year.

Organized on the same basis as local fraternities on campus, this organization aims to provide an outlet to develop the talents, abilities and character of its members.

Harry Snyder headed the club this year while Robert Hampton was vice-president; Richard Hyer, secretary; John Poor, treasurer; Jack Nolan, assistant treasurer; and William Saltzman, corresponding secretary. Serving as advisors were Dr. Foster Brooks, professor in the mathematics department; Mr. Robert Esser, professor in German; and Mr. William C. Darrach, professor in Business Administration.

SQUARE AND COMPASS

FIRST ROW: James Sitler, Phyllis Jones, Leonard Price, Dale Ballinger, Joan Rayment, Sam Mujais.

THIRD ROW: Tom Crawford, Mearl Eisenhart, Betty Mae Bertram,

FOURTH ROW: John Stahlman, Gerald Beeman, Russell Gray, Wilbur Beal, Raymond Fatig, Jay William Brown, Don Smith, Bill McLain, William Caskey, Donald White.

FIRST ROW: Sam J. Mujais, Joan Rayment, Phyllis Jones.

SECOND ROW: James Sitler, Dale Ballinger, Leonard Price.

Every Tuesday noon members of the Square and Compass club gathered at the Robin Hood for their weekly luncheon meetings.

Recent changes in the membership rulings make any member of the Rainbow Girls, Eastern Star, Jobs Daughters and De Moley, eligible for membership in the organization, formerly open only to Masons.

Among the social events of the year were card parties, banquets and scruff dance.

This year's slate of officers was headed by Dale Ballinger. Len Price was vice-president, Phyllis Jones, secretary; Samuel Mujais, treasurer; John Stahlman, chaplain and Joan Rayment, assistant secretary. Mr. and Mrs. Arden Hayes served as advisors to the group.

STUDENT COUNCIL

FIRST ROW: Gerald Ott, Wallace Kotouch, Bonnie Sue Rader, Irving Wheatly, Charles Fletcher.
SECOND ROW: Nancy Reddrop, Ruth Mason, Martha Lansinger,

Barbara Berg.
THIRD ROW: Wade Milford, Bob Evans, Jo Haggerty, Martha Buckles, Glen Fuller, Leroy Tunnell.

Harry Wise, Phil Dempsey, Clarence Peoples.

Probably the most important organization on campus is student council.

Traditional campus elections, such as Most Popular, Miss Kent State, and council elections themselves were handled by this important organization.

Student council was under the leadership of Phil Dempsey this year, who was assisted by Harry Wise and Clarence Peoples. Roger Howard handled the duties of chairman of the social committee with Irving Wheatly being in charge of elections committee.

This group is called on in case of any left over money in the allocating funds, and the matter of late hour permits for women on the campus.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Caro M. Carpetyan

The university can well be proud of the A Cappella choir, for it has achieved heights acclaimed by many in the professional music circles as unparalleled in college groups.

The credit for this honor belongs to Director Caro M. Carpetyan.

Concerts in every major northeastern Ohio City were given this year.

FIRST ROW: Mary Popovich, Dorothy Clinkscales, Lorraine Greshow, Marian Karantanes, Anne Rezos.

SECOND ROW: Mrs. White, Garnett Bird, Joan Schilling, Miss Matson, Shirley Edwards, Roberta Dovenbarger, Mrs. Hungerford.

THIRD ROW: Lois Dersey, Beverly Stafford, Virginia Gilcrest, Marilyn Woodling, Mary Lilley, Jean Louise Miller, Peggy Cerull, Margaret Ann Black, Helen Belden, Jean Barnum, Kathryn Silon.

YWCA

One of Kent's hardest working service organizations is the Young Women's Christian Association. Members distributed Christmas baskets, collected clothing to send to Europe and volunteered time for hospital work.

Officers were Shirley Edwards, president; Jean Miller, vice-president; Alice Godfrey, secretary and Garnett Bird, treasurer.

The K-P Club, established as the fourth U. S. student branch of the International Association for Childhood Education, is open to kindergarten-primary majors.

The club's activities consist of one social and one business meeting each month. National speakers and field trips are featured. Caroline Jansen headed the club assisted by Ann Eshler, Mary Roberts, Pat Godfrey. S. Hazel Swan is advisor.

THERE'S

Satisfaction

in Telephone Work

The young woman in telephone work is an important citizen. She has the satisfaction of doing work vital to the nation; the joy of congenial associates; good pay and an opportunity to get ahead. Come in and talk it over!
